

Saints Chase Glaser and Lukanovic Early to Win Second 9-2 and Even Series

HOMER BIRD HAD TULSANS EATING
OUT OF HIS HAND

Haugland Effective in Later Chapters—Both
Oiler Runs Unearned

By R. A. Bridgewater.

Thirsting for blood and revenge after their reverse in the opener Sunday afternoon, the Saints Monday secured an ample portion of both. They fell upon Hub Glaser and Tom Lukanovic in the first three innings and before their ravenous appetite could be even temporarily assuaged they had smashed out a volley of base-hits that produced seven runs, and with this lead to start with they breezed on to victory, 9 to 2, evening the series.

While the Saints were lambasting Glaser and Lukanovic at all corners of the lot—to say nothing of over the fence—"Lefty" Homer Bird was finding the Oilers' shutout seed. He wouldn't have been scored on but for an error in the third that put a couple of Tulsa baserunners in position to cross the pan on Lynn Lamb's double. Bird is the only jethander who has had any success at all against the Oilers this year.

Haugland Effective.

The only effective pitcher of the day decorating a Tulsa uniform was Oscar Haugland who went in in the third after the Saints had hammered Lukanovic and Glaser both off the rubber. Oscar stopped the batters in that round and then held the visitors to a pair of runs thereafter.

The Saints started after Glaser in the first inning, a lucky break giving him the jump. Olsen popped a slow roller to short that pointed under Stuart and went for a hit and Corriden moved him up with a sacrifice. He stopped at third on Fisher's hit single to right and Defate's single. An error by Manager Leibelt let the other two run off in the first. Defate was tripped between first and second in an attempt to start a double steal and Leibelt dropped Baumham's toss, Tony getting back to first and Fisher crossing the plate.

They were quiet in the second, but renewed the offensive with more power in the third. Corriden opened with a single and Fisher's second hit cleared the centerfield fence for 2 runs. The third was the time for Glaser's departure from the center of the stage and Lukanovic trotted out. His career on the hilltop was so brief that it almost took two to see him out there, one to say "Here he goes" and the other "There he goes." He pitched to five men, Baumham struck out, and then Defate singled to center in rapid succession, three more runs coming in and Lukanovic beating a hasty retreat. Haugland came to the rescue and the next two were retired quickly. The Saints scored their first run off Haugland in the sixth on a walk and Defate's double and the other tally yielded by Oscar was Corriden's home run in the eighth.

Tulsa Runs Gifts.

Bases on balls to Bennett and Stuart and Stevenson's miff of a toss by Defate with a clinch double play in sight set the stage for Tulsa's only runs. With the bases full Lamb doubled to center. The Oilers got men on base in several other innings but couldn't show 'em around. Only in the ninth did they make more than one hit off Bird. Leibelt opened the final round with a single but Crosby hit in a double play. Haugland then singled, only to be forced by Bennett.

The third game of the series will be played Tuesday afternoon, and it is "ladies" day. The best Monday crowd of the year was out for the Oiler defeat.

Singer Too Much for Twins.

FORT SMITH, June 26.—The Twins were helpless before left-handed pitchers of Sonner and Endt took the last of the series, 10 to 0.

HOMERS FEATURE YANK'S VICTORY OVER RED HOSE

Indians Win 6-0

BOSTON, June 26.—Home runs by Ruth and Shockey were big factors in New York's 6-4 victory over Boston today in the last game of a series in which Boston right field batters off Quinn in the fifth for his eighth homer of the year with a double. The Indians' bats were equally silent, but over the left field fence went the solo home run of the game. Winkler also gave Wilt a pure of 100 in wins.
